The third day's session of the convention of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations was held at Willard's hall yesterday. At a clock Mr. Simon Wolf called the assembly to order. Rev. Dr. Mayer, of Pittsburg, offered prayer.
A number of letters and telegrams from absent delegates, explaining their absence, were read. The committee, on recommen 'arion seven of the president's report, directing the attention of parents to the importance of their sons learning a mechanical irade or pursuing agricultural indusries, reported that they were of unanimous opinion that it would add to the happiness and prosperity to the rising generation if they would prosperity to the rising generation if they would learn a mechanical trade thoroughly or adopt an agricultural eccupation as their mode of support; and the committee have come to the conclusion, through their observation, that a mercantile career is too hazardous, and promises not as much of a success as that of a good mechanic or practical agriculturist. The report was adopted.

The committee, on recommendation eight of the president's report in reference to the collection of donations to the amount of $300,00, in order to errest the college building, provide it with a good library, and leave an ample amount in the shiking tund, so as to induce celebrated professors to accept positions in the Hebrew Union College, made a report, in which they recommended

Midsummer Night's Festival. The most enjoyable of the entertainments laid out by the reception committee for the visiting delegates of the Hebrew convention was the molsummer night's festival, held at the Schuetzen park last night. The handsome park was in ex-cellent condition and well lighted for the occasion. The guests began to arrive about 5 o'clock in the evening. The programme for the enter-tainment, besides the banquet and speaking, included a concert by the B'aal B'rith choir, under the direction of Rev. L. Stern, given in honor of the delegates to the convention. The singing was highly appreciated by the visitors. During the progress of the concert, H. King, esq., president of the B'nai B'rith Choir Associa-tion, made an eloquent address welcoming the greets. guests.
Simon Wolf, esq., was the orator of the evening,

CEATION BY SIMON WOLF, ESQ. Labuse And Gentlemen: The convention has performed the duty for which it was convened. In the spirit of harmony and the broadest philanthrony was every measure received, debated and the spirit of narraony and the broadest philanthropy was every measure received, debated and adopted; and we, the clittens of Washinton of Hebrew faith, welcome you to night to the closing festival in the programme of social enjoyment. To the extent of our ability we have aimed to render your visit not only pleasant, but profitable—profitable in so far as your ideas of the capital have been enlarged; and we hope that you will go away not only well pleased with us, but also with all that you have seen. You are the masters; we are but servants. You are voters; we are not. See to it that you spread far and wide the beauties of our streets, our parks and the general surroundings, so that every one may have the project appreciation of his country's capital. we owe it to our country, we owe it to each

We swe it to our country, we owe it to each other, that a common bond should unite us, and how much a meeting like the one just closed contributes to that desirable end, the future can alone prove. One thing is true, one thing is certain, that we here will ever cherish the liveless feelings of friendship, for you have allorded us an opportunity of proving how zealous we are in the pair-wit and passession of the noble objects of the Union. You have given us the chance to show that although without manufactures, commerce or great wealth, our hearts beat responsive to the demands of the hour, and that the Jewish men and women of Washington are determined to contended the new and eventful century with the enthusiasm that characterized our ferefathers continence the new and eventful century with the enthusiasm that characterized our ferefathers when engaged in enterprises of great moment. We are but few in number, but count in energy and holy real for thousands.

We are july aware how important it is that not only Hebraw colleges, but more colleges, be erected. There is room for improvement. Our American gamins are worse, if anything, than those of Paris, and our efforts, thank heaven, need not specially be directed to our children, to reclaim them from the street, to reclaim them from them that they may the street of the faith of their fathers, they at the same time shall become American citizens, who will be able and willing their fathers, they at the same time shall become American citizens, who will be able and willing to aid in general education and legislation. We want to educate our children intelligently and morally, so that the shame can be spared us of hearing them hoot with derision and epithet any one or any procession that may pass; for the philosopher, passing down Ninth street on Taesday night, could not help reflecting how much better it would be if Christian missions were supported less and home education more; for, if the latter was the fact, no such revolting spectacle could have been seen as children of tender and mature any yelling, "Christ Killers!" have been seen as children of tender and mature age yelling, "Christ Killers!" "Curly-headed Jows!" ac.

The old German proverh says: "The apple does not fall far from the tree." Yes, let us support this magnificent scheme of a college, of a ladie's seminary, of anything that tends to promote general culture and refinement. It is the only safe-guard against the encroachments of bigots and sectarians. It is the only lighthouse that will save the "Ship of State". Yesterday, while standing before the President of the United States, again white we were engaged in offices of plety and devotion at sacred Mount Vernon, I could not refrain from thinking that all this has been brought about by an enlightened people, by a free exercise of all the attributes of mankind, and that these priceless treasures can only be preserved by a union of Israel, and by healthy, wholesome education in that union; for I claim now, as Heine claimed, that the Jow is the "Swiss Guard of Deity." He has centuries of moral character to fall back on, but above all he has the greatest of divine blessings. He has domestic virtue; for let us not disguise the fact that a people only prosper when its women lead in virtue and intelligence.

The virtue and domestic character of Israel's fair daughters has been the breakwarter against every sea of fanalicism, against ever persecution. It is them coupled with our sublime simple faith that has kept us the banner-bearer of truth and light, and we can never die, except in the general wreck of matter, so long as the Jow respects that has kept us the banner-bearer of truth and light, and we can never die, except in the general wreck of matter, so long as the Jow respects his mother, wife, daughter and sister. It is the mystic cord that binds us all. Mesanges of love sent on the electric pulsations of the mother's heart find a response no matter how far sent. There is a love, veneration and plety about it that stamps the race as indestructible, that elevates it above all medicertry. Only see to it, Jewish mothers, that your children grow up simply as our fathers were centures ago, and yet strong in the love of country, vigorous in the love of truth, a fee to can't and hypocracy, a hater of all shams. Let your sons be men of merit no matter what profession they adopt. Let your daughters be unfashionable in having large hearts instead of small waists; aid them to receive a domestic education, an education not of ceive a domestic education, an education not ceive a domestic education, an education to the lips but of the soul, an education that wil fit them in turn to plant on the highest battle ments the Jewish hanner of progress, of virtue, charity. Ladies and gentlemen, once more thank soul.

After the eration the guests, with their ladies, were invited into the large banquet hall. Attorney General Taft was present, and occupied a post of honor.

After some time had been allowed to do justice to the feast the toasts of the evening were announced by Mr. Simon Wolf. Tothe first.—Non-Sectarion Free Schools.—Hof. Alphonso Taft responded with an eloquent speech. Br. Wise responded to "Religious Reform." Mr. Josiah Cohen made the response to "The Swiss Guard of Judaism—Our Young Men. "The Union of Hebrew Congregations" was responded to by Rev. Br. Sonnenscheimer; "The Board of Governers," by B. Bettman, esq., and "The Cententennial" by Rev. Dr. Lillienthal.

Other toasts were announced, and after the banquet a few hours were pleasantly passed in dancing and listening to the music and singing, when the guests departed.

He was at his stall yesterday dispensing his stock in trade with a vigor and activity that would indicate his having taken a iresh lease on life. While his friends flocked to the stand to congratulate him on the untruthfulness of the report, he received them smiling and weighed out his meat with that nicety of which practice only can give and precision that a man of judgment always displays. The unpleasant rumor had but one good result—Eagleston's stand was thronged all the morning, and be rapidly disposed of his stock in trade. But he don't relish that kind of advertising.

O'Brien never wore a mustache; he could not raise one.

Lenjamin Klopfer, a watchman at Draper's lumber yard, testified to seeing the shooting; O'Brien was just raising up when he fired; he said something to Garner before he fired, and evidently shot at Garner, or intended to.

No further testimony being given, the case was sent to the grand jury, and O'Brien was remanded to the custody of the marshal; bond, $1,200. Nicholson was required to give $500 bonds to appear as a witness. Robert Curnell, George W. Garner and William Morris were required to give bonds to appear as witnesses, in default of which they were committed.

The Miner Normal School. About twenty-five years ago a brave woman Miss Myrtilla Miner, undertook the creation of a school in this city for the purpose of educating colored people. She persevered under all opposi-tion, and overcame prejudice by steady, unflinch-ing courage. She received some aid from liberal minded friends, and the result of her labors is the minded friends, and the result of her labors is the present school. For several years it has been connected with Howard University, but now, for the object of entering a more extended field, the trustees have secured a room in this city, and propose opening a school for the education of these who desire to enter the field of teachers of their race. To teach, requires a certain training such as this school proposes to afford, and which will be equal to that of the best Normai schools in New England. The regular course of study will be two years, and the terms as set forth in their advertisement are very liberal. We call the attention of colored persons to this school, which is designed for their benefit, and will be productive of many blessings to them in the present as well as the future. Education is to them a necessity if they desire to perform their duties as intelligent citizens, and to such as propose to enter earnestly upon the labor of instruction there will not be a better place in which to prepare than in this, which is proposed to be a model Normai school for their benefit. Fill it up full on the 13th of next September.

No people in the world suffer so much with Dyspesia as Americans. BREAT REDUCTION OF HOARD AT THE CYCLEBRATED ROCKBRIDDE ALUS SPRINGS.—Owing to the depressed condition of the country the proprietor has determined to lower his charges, that all may be able to derive the benefits from the use of these justly celebrated waters. They need no recommendation to Washingtonians, since they have so fully established their efficiency through the thousands who have been brought from death's door to renewed health by the use of their wonderful medicinal waters. Since last summer the Chalybeate Spring, which was opened last year, has been thoroughly analyzed by Prof. M. B. Harden, of the V. M. I., of Virginia, and by comparison shows it to be fully as strong as "Hawley" of carbonate of from, having a small quantity mere than one and a small quantity less than the other two springs. So in addition to the water that we have these springs and the can furnish those who may need to drink either separately or in connection with the more celebrated waters of these springs a pure carbonate of iron (chair) have of these springs a pure carbonate of iron (chair) have in connection with the more celebrated waters of these springs a pure carbonate of iron (chair) have year. Several Fugitives from Justice Arrested. The officers of the Seventh precinct (Lieut Kelly's) have been informed, repeatedly of late, that there was a young gang of roughs who rendervoused nightly in the grove of the Germania Schuetzen Park, better known as Gales' woods, and that their regular assembling could not be for any honest purpose. It was decided to clear them out, and Sergeant Clements, together with Officers Lawler, Wheelock, Ryan, Thompson, Officers Lawler, Wheelock, Ryan, Thompson, king and others, proceeded to the place, and there captured William alias "Spider" Brown, William Johnson, Henry Bondinot, John Messerolo and James Cropsey. Brown was not easily captured, and in attempting to escape was shot by Officer Ahern, (receiving a slight wound.) "Spider" then turned on the officer and attempted to club him, but the officer succeeded in flooring him. Cropsey also made some show of resistance. All of them are "old birds" frequently before the courts, and there are now several charges pending against them. Brown is a fugitive from justice, having escaped from the Police Court a few days since, and he is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill. Lieut. Geseford has three charges of larceny against him, and Lieut. Noonan, of the Second precinct, has a charge of highway robbery. Cropsey is a fugitive from the chain gang.
